Purpose 11: Contacting you	UHI and its academic partners may contact you by email regarding any of the other purposes in this privacy notice, any other matter associated with your studies at UHI, or for any emergency purpose. In addition to emails, UHI and its academic partners may contact you by text message for some reasons. More information about text messaging is included in UHI’s Text messaging privacy notice. UHI will also write to you as it requires, including to send you important documents about your studies such as academic transcripts and certificates.
Purpose 12: Equalities Monitoring and Reporting	To encourage, enhance and monitor equality of opportunity and treatment. To take steps to encourage and monitor equality as set out in the Equality Act 2010. And to create and assess such reports as are required for that function. This involves processing any equalities monitoring information you provide to UHI when you apply/enrol.

Purpose 13: Academic and conduct Investigations (and complaints)	UHI sets standards and rules concerning the conduct of university staff and students. These include all university policies, procedures, guidance. The university may need to process personal data of students to investigate potential breaches of its standards or rules. Depending on your course you may be subject to additional conduct requirements (eg medical or financial courses subject to the rules of relevant professional bodies – you can see more about relevant regulatory bodies in the ‘Your data will, or may, be shared with the following recipients or categories of recipient’ section of this notice). You may also be subject to additional rules if you live in university halls. The university may investigate where it has reason to suspect rules may have been broken or where it receives a complaint. Where UHI has reason to think you may have acted in a fashion not in keeping with its rules, regulations, or policies it may investigate under its conduct policy or academic regulations. UHI may investigate under different rules, regulations, and policies as required in the circumstances. Policies and regulations - Policies (uhi.ac.uk) UHI and its academic partners operate processes for handling complaints. UHI and partners may receive your personal data when you make a complaint and will use your data to handle, investigate and respond to your complaint. This may involve details of your complaint, including your data, being shared with partners within and outwith the UHI partnership as required. Other may also be informed of details of your complaint (including details that may identify you), including any person you may have complained about, who may be a witness or may otherwise be pertinent to the investigation or complaint resolution. Complaints information may be shared with the Scottish Public Services Ombudsman as required.
Purpose 14: References and qualification/ academic history checks	If you apply to volunteer/work for, study at, or engage with organisations then they may ask UHI to verify your qualifications, academic history or may ask UHI for a reference. UHI may also procure such references form other organisations where relevant to your applications or other matters. UHI provides references in confidence to those who seek them.
Purpose 15: Quality assurance and improvement	UHI is required to maintain high standards of education and student service, and always seeks to improve its services. To do this UHI may use personal data about students, or send surveys, to gauge its quality standards and gather opinions or information that can help it improve its services. This includes the annual ESES survey.
Purpose 16: Research and development	The UHI Partnership, as a partnership of HE and FE organisations, has a public task to conduct research. Such research may be to investigate matters with a view to publishing results that contribute to fields of study and society in general or to contribute to the quality assurance and enhancement of UHI’s own

	services (or both). Such research may be undertaken by, or with, UHI or any of its academic partners. UHI may also conduct research with other bodies. UHI may provide research data (that may include personal data) to selected other trusted, organisations for the purpose of research quality assurance or further research. UHI will also conduct research about its own services and functions to help understand and improves its services. This purpose includes anonymising data to create an anonymous data set for use in research. Wherever possible anonymised data will be used rather than personal data.

To achieve the following purposes: Purpose 11: Contacting you Purpose 15: Quality assurance and improvement Purpose 14: References and qualification/ academic history checks

Our legal reason to use the data is: UHI and its academic partners will contact you for a number of different reasons, the lawful basis will be associated with the purpose for which UHI is contacting you. Contacting for any reason in this notice will be under the same lawful basis as that purpose. In addition, UHI and its academic partners may contact you by text message – more information about contacting you by text message, including the lawful bases, is included in the UHI text messaging privacy notice. UHI may send your surveys or use data for quality assurance and improvement purposes based on its legitimate interests to maintain and improve standards of its work and services to students and the community. UHI will also process your data for the purpose of providing references to other organisations regarding your academic or qualification history and interactions with UHI and Academic Partners. The basis for this will depend on the nature of the request and UHI's reasons for responding.

The data being used includes special category (sensitive) data, you are not obliged to provide this information. Our legal reasons for using this sensitive data, where provided, are:

Purpose 12: Equalities Monitoring and Reporting

Use is necessary for UHI to comply with a legal obligation and undertake processing required by law (Equality Act 2010) which is in the public interest. That processing may include using the data to offer and provide support and assistance as appropriate in line with the Equality Act. Use of the data is also necessary for a matter of substantial public interest, that being; identifying and keeping under review the existence or absence of equality of opportunity or treatment.

Purpose 2: Student support

As part of your enrolment or student support journey, you may disclose sensitive personal data. This data will be used for the purposes of supporting and protecting as necessary. Such actions being required under enactment in the public interest under the Post-16 Education Act, Equality Act, Children and Young peoples' Act, General duty of care, Mental Health (Scotland), and employment law.. The processing may also be required for the purposes of employment law or assessing the working capacity of individuals (including working on placement or in practical elements of study).

As also set out more specifically in these privacy notices:

Proactive contact and support for: care experienced students, estranged students, and Proactive contact and support for student carers

Purpose 13: Academic and conduct investigations & Purpose 6: Academic standards

To ensure investigations are fair, the university needs to consider all relevant evidence. Sometimes it may be the case that the evidence may include, or be indicative, special category data. In such cases, the university will consider the lawfulness of processing this information based on the specific circumstances of the case.

Purpose 7: Protecting vulnerable groups and others,

UHI is required to conduct PVG and other safeguarding checks for some of its courses to protect the public. Processing of special category and/or criminal convictions and associated data is required by UHI as a matter of substantial public interest, that being statutory purposes as UHI is required, by law, to undertake such checks and protect the public.

UHI may be provided with, or discover, data that indicates a risk factor to others. Such data may include special category or and/or criminal convictions and associated data. UHI will use this data to protect vulnerable groups and all others. The exact legal condition will depend on the nature of the protective function but may include (not limited to): Protecting the Vital interests of individuals, statutory purposes: General Duty of Care, preventing or detecting unlawful acts, Regulatory requirements relating to unlawful acts and dishonesty etc, preventing fraud, safeguarding of children and of individuals at risk, or safeguarding economic well-being of certain individuals.

The course information will clearly state if you need to be a PVG member to study, if you are not sure or would like more information you contact your local Academic Partner, contact details can be found at <https://www.uhi.ac.uk/en/t4-media/one-web/university/students/support/student-records/registry-contact-details.pdf>. More information about the PVG can be found at <https://www.mygov.scot/pvg-scheme/>.

Our lawful basis for processing any criminal convictions data disclosed by Disclosure Scotland as part of the PVG scheme is:

Processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest those being;

- Meeting the college's statutory requirement to fulfil its duties under the Protection of Vulnerable Groups (Scotland) Act 2007.

Meeting the college's requirement to ensure that students meet the regulatory standards for professional study and practice, as set by the relevant professional body.

Purpose 5: Returns and statistics

UHI processes special category data by providing it to the Scottish Funding Council as required. The sharing happens on the basis that it is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, on the basis of law under:

Further and Higher Education (Scotland) Act 1992.

Further and Higher Education (Scotland) Act 2005.

EU legislation for the provision of the European Social Fund.

Purpose 16: Research and development

UHI may need to process special category data for its research purposes in the public interest. UHI will limit personal data to what is necessary for its research purposes and will use anonymised or pseudonymised data wherever possible.

If you were to withhold the personal information we require for this process, the consequences would be that we would be unable to process your enrolment on your course. This would mean the university would be unable to deliver teaching or provide student services; your university account would be cancelled and any funding or bursary applications you may have made will be delayed or cancelled.

With regard to courses that require PVG Scheme Membership, the university has specific duties under the Protection of Vulnerable Groups (Scotland) Act 2007. Should you be excluded from engaging with vulnerable groups you may be unable to participate in key aspects of your course. This may cause you complications if you have arranged funding for your course of study.

If you have concerns with regard to PVG Scheme Membership, you should discuss the matter as soon as possible with the university. We do not require you to disclose criminal convictions to us directly as part of the application process, but we may be informed of any criminal convictions by Disclosure Scotland as part of the PVG Scheme Membership process.
